How's Your Liver?
Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.
As a general family remedy for Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever use anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels.

PIANOS.
GAINED FIRST PREMIUM FOR GREATEST merit at the New Orleans Cotton Centennial and WORLE'S Exposition for refined and wonderful power of tone, elegance of design, and superb finish. Only piano endorsed by United States commissioners, from each of the States. Cases finest carved, rosewood finish—finest imported double repeating action—three strings throughout of best patent steel wire—keys best ivory. Our new patent steel tuning device, instead of wood, is the greatest invention ever made in pianos. It consists of stationary STEEL tuning pins that are set in a mold and molten STEEL is run round the pins keeping them solidly in place. A thimble or shell pin is made to exactly fit the stationary pin revolving therein; thus the strings wind round the pins. After the strings are properly stretched the piano can never get out of tune, the rest plank being of STEEL not affected by extremes of climate. This will be be appreciated by all musicians in city or country. It will stand twenty years without tuning and is good for 100. No other piano has this improvement.
Great strength and durability is another advantage. In other pianos holes are bored in wooden boards and tuning pins inserted. The pins turn round in this board and cannot stand permanently in tune, and it often cracks, splits, dries out, becoming utterly, totally and entirely worthless as a musical instrument. Our STEEL tuning device is in no way affected by such casualities, and the sounding board is so constructed that our pianos can never become thin or metallic in tone. They are always in tune and the expense of tunning is saved. This patent alone is worth millions and makes our piano the greatest in the world. Prices are no higher than other pianos. Buying direct from us, the largest manufacturers, you save $100 or $200—dealers' profits. Don't mind the ominous growlings of dealers and agents, who see their chances of selling a poor piano at a big profit of $200—slipping away—pity them.
We guarantee our pianos ten years. 200 styles. We have put our prices at lowest bed-rock for Cash.
A $600 Piano for $259.50; a $900 Piano for $297 50; a $1200 Piano for $375.50; a $1500 Piano for $475.50.
Upright Cabinet Grands, with stool and rubber cover shipped on board cars at S. F., to any part of the United States, Canada or Mexico. Our terms are cash with order. If not as represented money returned. We occassionally have good second-hand pianos, made over at $100 to $300, which we take in part payment for our own. Write or call for catalogue, free.

PRESERVED IN STONE.

ONE OF THE PROFOUND MYSTERIES OF THE SOUTH SEAS.

Records of a Prehistoric People—Colossal Figures, Massive Ruins and Palaces with Painted Walls—The Wonders of Easter Island.

The Caroline islands, which are now recognized as belonging to Spain, though the Germans tried to annex them a few years ago, form one of the largest archipelagos of the Pacific, covering a sea area of more than 3,000 miles, and comprising over 500 separate fragments of land. Some of these islets are mere rocks, many are uninhabited and a few are very populous. Excepting those at the eastern end of the chain, and the large island of Yap at the western end, they have been rarely, some of them never, visited by white men, unless in the dubious form of "beach combers."

Kusaie, sometimes called Strong island, is about fifty miles in circumference, is of basaltic formation, has a large extent of high ground, and boasts of two excellent harbors. The people are reputedly industrious and peaceable—for South Sea islanders—and they have a king of their own. They belong, to all appearance, to the Polynesian race, but travelers have declared that they seem capable of a higher civilization than the average Polynesian. It is remarkable that the chiefs communicate by signs and speech not understood by the common people.

LITTLE EASTER ISLAND.

If we traverse some few thousand miles of ocean to the very eastern outskirts of Polynesia we shall find the little island called Easter island, which is barely ten miles long by four miles broad, which has no trees, no running water, and very little about it to attract settlers. It is of volcanic origin, and one of the extinct craters is over 1,000 feet high.

Yet this physically uninteresting island, peopled by Polynesians of the fair type, such as are found in the Society islands, is the greatest mystery of the Pacific. It is covered with remains of some prehistoric people of whom every record but that preserved in stone seems to have vanished.

At the southwest end of this little island there are to be found the ruins of nearly a hundred stone houses, built in regular lines and facing the sea. The walls of these houses are five feet thick and over five feet high, built of layers of flat stones and lined inside with flat slabs. Internally the houses measure about forty feet long by thirteen feet wide, and they are roofed over with slabs overlapping like tiles. The inside walls are painted in three colors—red, black and white—with figures of birds and mystic beasts and faces and geometrical figures. In one of these houses was found a curious stone statue eight feet high and weighing about four tons, which is now in the British museum.

The sea cliffs near this ancient settlement are carved into grotesque shapes not unlike the paintings on the walls, and the coast is marked with hundreds of these strange sculptures.

Again, on each headland of the island there is an enormous stone platform, built of hewn blocks of great size, fitted together without cement. They are built on sloping ground, presenting on the seaward side a wall face twenty or thirty feet high and two or three hundred feet long, and on the landward side a wall of about three feet in height rising from a level terrace.

EVIDENCES OF WORSHIP.

These platforms have evidently had to do with the religious practices of the early settlers, whoever they were; for upon all of them are large stone pedestals which have supported images, and on some of them broken images are still to be seen. On one platform fifteen images were found, in size ranging from three to thirty-five feet in height. They are of human shape, representing the upper part of the body only, with arms and hands close to the sides. The heads are cut flat to allow of crowns being placed on them, which crowns seem to have been made, not of the same material as the statues, but of red tufa. This has been traced to an extinct crater within a few miles of the houses, and on the brink of this crater a large number of crowns were found, finished and ready for removal before some strange fate depeopled the island of these ancient worshipers.

The images themselves are made of gray lava, which is only found at quite another crater at the other end of the island. At this crater, called Otouli, there are several finished and partly finished images, just as they were left by the workmen. It is remarkable that the present natives have small wooden images carved out of a hard, dark wood, but these images are hideous and differ altogether from the dignified statues of the platforms.

The present inhabitants are simply tattooed savages, who are more than suspected to have a taste for cannibalism. They live in long, low houses, in shape like an upturned canoe, with only a single opening about two feet square, wholly unlike the massive stone villages we have described. There may have been wood on the island at one time, for the natives are well provided with clubs and spears, and they also use a double headed paddle which has not been observed elsewhere in the Pacific. But, on the other hand, they may have brought these implements with them, for they have a tradition that their great-great-grandfathers emigrated from the island of Rapaiti, about 2,000 miles away, and just south of the Austral group. Be this as it may, they call their present abode Rapahui, or Great Rapa, to distinguish it from what they call their former home.—Cassell's Magazine.

Jumbo's stomach contained many English coins, gold as well as silver and bronze. The elephant's skin was one and a half inches thick. The skeleton weighs 2,400 pounds, and the total weight of the body was over six tons.

THEY WERE NEWLY MARRIED.

Consequently They Were So Busily Engaged They Passed Their Station.

There was an amusing and instructive scene the other day in an uptown train on the Sixth avenue elevated. At Park place a handsome young couple, evidently very much in love, got on one of the middle cars, and settling down in a cross seat they proceeded without delay to become absorbed in one another, not paying the slightest heed to any one else in the car. All the passengers watched them with good natured interest, even the small boy in the corner, who had been deeply absorbed in the delights of a tuppenny dreadful.

Station after station flew by, all unheeded as far as the lovemakers were concerned, and the stalwart Adonis' arm had just settled comfortably about the waist of his demure companion when she suddenly gave a little feminine shriek and made a frantic break for the door. Everybody was startled, no one more than the young man, who instinctively attempted to hold her back. But she only jerked herself away, and the onlookers could see that the expression of undying love on her features had given way to a look of the most pronounced vexation as she turned on her companion with the remark:

"Now, I knew you'd do it. And I was so anxious to be on time. Don't make matters worse by sitting there, but let us get off before we are carried any further."

"But this isn't our station," expostulated the young man in astonishment.

"I know it isn't. We are far beyond it. We should have gotten off at Fifty-ninth."

"Well, we haven't reached there yet."

"Of course we have, stupid! Come on before the train starts up again or I'll go alone. Don't you see this is Eighty-first?"

"Nonsense," exclaimed the Adonis, getting excited in his turn.

"It isn't nonsense! Don't you see there, 'Eighty-first' in big white letters?"

There it was, sure enough; but even as everyone looked, and the young man started hastily to gather up some bundles that were on the seat beside him, the train started, and a change came over the expression of the bride—for a bride she certainly was. From a vexatious flush, the color on her face changed to a dark crimson blush of embarrassment, which grew deeper as the unfeeling wretch by her side burst into a loud laugh, in which all the passengers joined.

The bride didn't say another word, but simply made her way hurriedly into the forward car, followed closely by her sturdy companion, who was trying in vain to look serious. The little woman had been fooled by the mirror between the seats, which reflecting the station sign from the platform, had turned the figures around, making 81 out of 18.—New York Star.

A Brave Little Beauty.

Mayor Cushing's little 5-year-old daughter Blanche fell from a hammock and broke her shoulder. After the fall she ran into the house, her lips clenched tightly, and calmly told her mother that she had hurt herself. Although not a tear was visible, yet the deathly pallor which had spread over her face told the mother that her little one was hurt.

"Now, mamma, don't you cry. I will stand the pain. It won't last so very long," said the little one.

Hastily examining his child, Mr. Cushing found that the shoulder blade was broken. Surgeons were immediately brought, and the fracture, which proved to be a serious one, was quickly set.

At no time during the fearfully painful operation did the little one utter so much as a moan. She simply clenched her dainty little fists, bit her lips, and without a tear bore it all in a manner which the attending physician afterward remarked they had never seen equaled.—Omaha Bee.

About Whipping a Horse.

It is rarely ever proper to strike a mettlesome horse. Occasionally a fault is clearly foolish, and no fear associated with it in the creature's mind, such as nipping his mate, or reaching round the head to see if you are about ready, or backing when you have no room, and must be obeyed with a bound; then a gentle reminder with the whip is well enough. On rare occasions authority may be maintained by enforcing fear. Yet if you terrorize the creature he will hate you. It seems hard for a horse or a dog to forget an injury. They never forgive in the sense that men do. This fact is often lost sight of by thoughtless people in their intercourse with dumb animals.—New York Weekly.

Why the Groom Is the Elder.

In the friendships formed between boys and girls during the school age, the boy is usually a year or so older than the girl, girls of from 10 to 15 being as a rule a trifle brighter than boys of the same age, and having more inclination and time to study, and consequently being put into classes with boys about a year older than themselves. About the age of 15 or 16 the average girl begins to mature socially at a rapid gait, and at 18 she is the equal—generally more than the equal—of a man of 21.—New York Ledger.

Apparent Size of the Sun or Moon.

What is the apparent size of the disk of the sun or moon seen with the naked eye? Most people estimate it at from about three inches in diameter to the size of a soup plate. An investigator says that at a distance of ten feet a silver quarter dollar would conceal the disk of the sun or moon, as would a buckshot about a quarter of an inch in diameter if held at arm's length.—New London Telegraph.

Physicians always order beef for invalids that is cooked very little, in order that none of the nourishment in the meat may be dried away. Lean beef ground in a machine, salted to taste, made into cakes, and broiled just enough to heat, is excellent for invalids to whom the doctor has forbidden vegetables. A person in health may suit his taste.

ON CONTRACTS.

Their Peculiarities When Made Either by Letter or by Telegram.

The question of rights and liabilities under contracts made by correspondence, or a series of letters or telegrams to and from some one in another city in relation to mutual business transactions, is one that is frequently arising in business life, and with the principles of law governing such contracts or such correspondence, it will be advantageous to most business men to be familiar. Contracts thus made are in their nature the same as all other contracts and governed by the same rules, viz.: There must be parties capable of contracting, a subject matter to be contracted for, a sufficient consideration, and an assent or completion of the contracts, and it is of the rules governing the determination of this question only that we propose to write now, and to give only those more familiar rules that are well established by adjudicated cases.

An offer made by mail or telegraph is a continuing and open proposition until its receipt by the party to whom it is addressed, and such reasonable time thereafter as will enable him to accept or refuse it, or until actual notice of its withdrawal by the party making that offer reaches the party to whom the offer has been made, and any act done by the party evincing an intent to accept it before actually receiving such notice of its withdrawal, is a completion of the contract. It may be withdrawn by the party making it at any time previous to its acceptance by the other, but this notice of withdrawal is not operative until it has actually reached the party to whom it is addressed.

For instance: If A should write to B, making a certain offer for certain goods, and B should write accepting such offer, the contract would be completed at the time B posted his acceptance, although A might in the meantime have written another letter withdrawing his offer, providing that B had mailed his acceptance before receiving the notice of withdrawal. In other words, the contract is complete at the time of mailing the acceptance of the offer, and not at the time of the receipt of such acceptance by the party making the offer.

Should B delay his acceptance, however, until the receipt of the notice of withdrawal, no acceptance then made could operate to bind A to the contract.

The offer need not be revoked in the same manner as it was made, either; and should A. after making an offer to B. alter his determination and telegraph B to that effect, which telegram was received by B previous to a receipt of the offer or its acceptance by him, it is a complete withdrawal.

The entire question in each case is, Has there been an assent to the terms offered before the offer was withdrawn? If so, there is a complete contract, which can only be rescinded by the consent of both parties, while before such acceptance its terms are constantly open to a modification by either.—American Merchant.

How the Fog Affected Observations.

A new story is told about the sharpness and briskness of the captains of the transatlantic steamships. On a recent voyage of one of the well known vessels plying between here and Europe, one of the passengers, a woman, pestered the captain to death with unnecessary questions. Some heavy weather set in, and owing to the fog and rain the ship's officers were unable to make their usual observations. When the captain came down to dinner on that afternoon his persecutor was waiting for him.

"Rough weather, captain," she said.

"Somewhat."

"A good deal of rain."

"A good deal."

"Pretty heavy fog."

"Yes, it is."

"So heavy, I understand, that you could not make your observation."

"Yes," gruffly, "but not heavy enough to prevent you from making yours."—New York Tribune.

Feather Factories.

At Mannheim, Germany, several factories, employing steam machinery and hundreds of operatives, are now at work preparing feathers for market. The feathers come in great quantities from different sections of Europe, and from China and other parts of Asia. The bales are opened near a kind of gin or breaker, which shakes out the feathers and throws them around in a chamber through which a strong air current is passing. From this machine they pass to others, in which the long and heavy feathers are separated by ventilators from the short and light, until the final grade of delicate down is blown into a large receiver. The cleaning is effected by jets of steam, the dirt thus loosened being drawn off by currents of dry air.—Arkansaw Traveler.

A Wealthy Insurance Man.

Henry B. Hyde, the multi-millionaire insurance man of New York, was once an insurance solicitor and a member of a small club up town. He occasionally talked life insurance in a business way while spending his evenings at the club. This was not considered the proper thing by some of the gilded members, and Mr. Hyde was notified that unless he desisted he would be expelled. After that Mr. Hyde talked less insurance in the club but a great deal more outside, and started on a career which has made him one of the richest insurance men in the country.—Exchange.

The Reporter in Full Flower.

The reporter is an institution whose value to the world at large is not always appreciated, to be sure; he is really an instrument of education and refinement, and when seen in his best estate is clever, quick, of broad sympathies and wide information, entertaining and polite.—Springfield Republican.

In a year and seventeen days, from Aug. 26, 1862, to Sept. 12, 1863, William Banting, a London merchant, reduced his weight from 202 pounds to 156. He elaborated a dietetic method of curing corpulence, which method is now known by his name.

THE EXHIBIT FUNDS.

There is deposited in the Sonoma Valley Bank to the credit of the Sonoma Valley Exhibit Committee the sum of $500 more or less. This money belongs to the people of the valley from the shores of San Pablo Bay to South Los Guilicos. For several years it has been lying in bank without drawing interest. That this money should be spent in the interest of the whole valley all will admit. To expend it in the interest of any one particular section would be an act of injustice to the others. But if something is not done with this money at an early date it will be lost sight of in the public mind and in time forgotten. In the interest of the entire valley we would therefore suggest that this $500 be used in constructing a new road leading to Mountain Cemetery in this place, in which the people of the valley, for the most part, have an equal interest. In this cemetery lie buried the relatives and friends of the residents of Sonoma, Shellville, Agua Caliente, Glen Ellen and South Los Guilicos. It is essentially the cemetery of Sonoma Valley in a public sense. Ever since this cemetery was laid out years ago lots have been deeded by the city of Sonoma to the people of town and valley gratis, notwithstanding the taxpayers of the city without outside assistance, have been compelled to fence and keep in repair the cemetery and the road leading to the same. This being so, surely the people of the valley would not object to applying these idle funds to so laudable an object. In the opinion of many they could not be expended to better advantage. The road leading to Mountain Cemetery is rocky, steep and dangerous. Five hundred dollars would make a beautiful winding driveway leading to every part of the cemetery and there would still be something left to improve the avenues.

DIPHTHERIA has become alarmingly prevalent in San Francisco the past few weeks, so much so that the State Board of Health has issued a circular on the restriction and prevention of the disease. The Board advises cleanliness, not only of the person, but the surroundings of the dwelling. In commenting on a source of the disease in the interior the Board say: "In some of our valley towns, not easily drained, in which leaky privy vaults and cesspools have been used since their early settlement — never emptied, but covered when full and others dug near by—the soil must be saturated, and well water, under such circumstances, is unsafe."

THERE has been no irregularity in the recurrence of leap year every four years since 1800 and will be none until 1900 which will be a common year, although it will come fourth after the preceding leap year.

A Wonder Worker.

Mr. Frank Huffman, a young man of Burlington, Ohio, states that he has been under the care of two prominent physicians, and used their treatment until he was not able to get around. They pronounced his case to be Consumption and incurable. He was persuaded to try Dr. Kings's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds and at that time was not able to walk across the street without resting. He found, before he had used half of a dollar bottle, that he was much better; he continued to use it and is to-day enjoying good health. If you have any Throat, Lung or Chest Trouble try it. We guarantee satisfaction. Trial bottle free at Ed. Wegner's Drug Store.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

The Elections in the East--Speaker of the Next House.

(From an Occasional Correspondent.)

Whew! What a landslide it was. You can hear nothing else but election talk here just now. The Democrats are naturally loud in their demonstrations of joy, for to tell the truth they are even more astonished at the result than are the Republicans. They expected to win the House by a small majority, but their most sanguine rainbow chaser had no idea of the tidal wave that went their way. Of course, there are now plenty of Democrats who, with a straight face, will tell you that they expected the result to be just what it was, but they didn't all the same. The Republicans attempt to make the best of a bad thing by talking of "off year," "usual result," "always to be expected," etc., but they cannot hide the effect of their fright—you can see it in their faces. The best informed among them expected to lose the House by a small majority, but the man who would have told them Monday night what the result would really be would have been considered by them a fit subject for the insane asylum.

There is one Republican who, if appearances indicate his feelings, is not cast down by the result of the elections, that is Secretary Blaine. I saw him this morning and he was in the very best of humor, and I am told that he remarked to a friend that it was no more than he expected. Two things which were potent issues in the fight just ended—the McKinley tariff law and the Federal election bill—both of which proved to be heavy burdens to the Republican party—were opposed by Mr. Blaine, and the knowledge of this is probably what makes that gentleman so good-natured in the face of the defeat of his party. The fact that his rival, Speaker Reed, strongly favored these measures has not been forgotten by Mr. Blaine.

Mr. Harrison has taken the results very much to heart, as owing to the reports of J. S. Clarkson, who was assisting the Congressional committee, he had become convinced that his party would retain their control of the House. Mr. Clarkson went away as soon as the result was known, ostensibly for his health, but it is probable that he was very glad to get away from the explanations he would have been asked to make. It is not thought that Mr. Clarkson would have the slightest show for a Cabinet position even if there were half-a-dozen vacancies.

Victory has its troubles too. Already there are evidences that the fight among the Democrats for the Speakership of the next House is to be long, stubborn and bitter. At the start there are half-a-dozen candidates. Mr. Mills thinks the removal of Mr. Carlisle to the Senate and the death of Messrs. Randall and Cox gives him a mortgage on the Speakership, but his claims will be hotly disputed by those who believe themselves better qualified to wield the Speaker's gavel than the Texan. Among them are, Mr. Crisp of Georgia, who proved himself an able parliamentarian during the last session; Mr. McMillan of Tennessee, a prominent member of the Ways and Means committee; Mr. Bynum of Indiana, who obtained a national reputation of being censured by vote of the Republicans of the House for his abuse of Speaker Reed; Mr. Springer of Illinois, who often adorned the Speaker's chair when Mr. Carlisle was Speaker, and Mr. Breckinridge of Kentucky, who is personally one of the most popular men who ever served in Congress.

Mr. Dunnell will have to revise his congressional apportionment bill. It was based on a population of 64,000,000. Whatever is done it is certain to result in a big row in Congress. The Republicans will, of course, want to fix it so as to gain all of the advantage possible in the fifty-third Congress and in the electoral college, and some of them want the bill to provide for a special election to elect the additional Representatives it will give, in time to take their seats in the fifty-second Congress. It is not very probable, though of course possible, that the bill will go quite as far as that.

HELBERG-SCHILLING—In San Francisco, November 6, 1890, by Rev. Mr. Funderling, F. Helberg and Mary Schilling.

The Buccaneers of Old

Flaunted the skull and cross bones, their ensign, defiantly at the masthead. Your modern pirate, not on the high seas, but upon the high reputation of standard remedies skulks under various disguises. His hole and corner traffic has never to any degree affected Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, although that standard invigorant and corrective has long been the shining mark at which his shafts have been directed. Cheap local bitters, composed of fiery unrectified stimulants, with an infusion, or extract possibly, of some tonic bark, are still sometimes recommended as identical with, or similar to, or possessing virtues kindred to those of America's chosen family medicine. These perish speedily, while the great subduer and preventive of disease pursues it successful career, overcoming malaria, dyspepsia, nervousness, kidney troubles, constipation and rheumatic ailments, not only on this, but on many continents.

Restored His Wife's Health.

My wife suffered for years from debility and a general breaking down of health, the results of diseases peculiar to women. A few bottles of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) restored her to perfect health. It built her up, increased her appetite and weight, until she is now the picture of health. The speedy recovery of my wife from her long illness caused all my family, and several of my neighbors, to take S. S. S. As a tonic we are all delighted with it. GEO. FLAMMER,

Baby Cured.

My baby had the worst case of Catarrh that I ever saw a small child afflicted with. The nasal discharge was very large and very offensive. Having some personal knowledge of the curative properties of S. S. S. I gave the baby a course of S. S. S., using nothing else. In a short time the discharge from the nose stopped, and the Catarrh was cured entirely and permanently, as there has been no return of it since.

PECULIAR INFATUATION.

Different Methods of Following the Injunction "Love One Another."

Do men ever fall in love with each other?

Women do. Not long ago a young woman in New Jersey was married to a youthful laborer on her father's farm. Some time afterward it was discovered that the husband was a female; the young wife refused, however, though earnestly entreated by her friends, to give up her chosen consort. The strangest part of the discovery was the fact that the bride knew her husband was a woman before she was led to the altar.

If men do not exhibit this strange infatuation for one of their own sex, they, at least, oftentimes, give evidence of the fact that they love one another. There are many instances on record where one man has given his life for another. There are many more instances where men have given life to another.

It is a proud possession—the knowledge that one has saved a precious human life. Meriden, Conn., is the home of such a happy man. John H. Preston, of that city, July 11, 1890, writes: "Five years ago I was taken very sick, I had several of the best doctors, and one and all called it a complication of diseases. I was sick four years, taking prescriptions prescribed by these same doctors, and I truthfully state I never expected to get any better. At this time, I commenced to have the most terrible pains in my back. One day an old friend of mine, Mr. R. T. Cook of the firm of Curtis & Cook, advised me to try Warner's Safe Cure, as he had been troubled the same way and it had effected a cure for him. I bought six bottles, took the medicine as directed and am to-day a well man. I am sure no one ever had a worse case of kidney and liver trouble than I had. Before this I was always against proprietary medicines but not now, oh, no."

Friendship expresses itself in very peculiar ways sometimes; but the true friend is the friend in need.

"Hello! Tom. Glad to see you, old fellow! It's almost ten years since we were married. Sit down: let's have an experience meeting. How's the wife?"

"Oh! she's so-so, same as usual,—always wanting something I can't afford."

"Well, we all want something more than we've got. Don't you?"

"Yes: but I guess 'want will be my master.' I started to keep down expenses; and now Lil says I'm 'mean,' and she's tired of saving and never having anything to show for it. I saw your wife down street, and she looked as happy as a queen!"

"I think she is; and we are economical, too,—have to be. My wife can make a little go further than anyone I ever knew, yet she's always surprising me with some dainty contrivance that adds to the comfort and beauty of our little home, and she's always 'merry as a lark.' When I ask how she manages it, she always laughs and says: 'Oh! that's my secret!' But I think I've discovered her 'secret.' When we married, we both knew we should have to be very careful, but she made one condition: she would have her Magazine. And she was right! I wouldn't do without it myself for double the subscription price. We read it together, from the title-page to the last word: the stories keep our hearts young; the synopsis of important events and scientific matters keeps me posted so that I can talk understandingly of what is going on; my wife is always trying some new idea from the household department; she makes all her dresses and those for the children, and she gets all her patterns for nothing, with the Magazine; and we saved Joe when he was so sick with the croup, by doing just as directed in the Sanitarian Department. But I can't tell you half!"

"What wonderful Magazine is it?"

"Demorest's Family Magazine, and—"

"What! Why that's what Lil wanted so bad, and I told her it was an extravagance."

"Well, my friend, that's where you made a grand mistake, and one you'd better rectify as soon as you can. I'll take your 'sub.' right here, on my wife's account: she's bound to have a china tea-set in time for our tin wedding next month. My gold watch was the premium I got for getting up a club. Here's a copy, with the new Premium List for clubs,—the biggest thing out! If you don't see in it what you want, you've only to write to the publisher and tell him what you want, whether it is a tack-hammer or a new carriage, and he will make special terms for you, either for a club, or for part cash. Better subscribe right off and surprise Mrs. Tom. Only $2.00 a year—will save fifty times that in six months. Or send 10 cents direct to the publisher, W. Jennings Demorest, 15 East 14th Street, New York, for a specimen copy containing the Premium List."

A large number of our people viewed the wheelbarrow act with evident pleasure.

McFADDEN, THE BIGAMIST.

The Wretch is Put on Trial for His Misdeeds.

Patrick McFadden, ever since his arrest in this place a few weeks ago, has been lying in the City Prison at San Francisco, awaiting trial. Last Monday his case was called in Judge Hale Rix's court, and his Philadelphia wife, a pale, wan little women, with three babies hanging on to her skirts, was the first witness called. She was poorly but neatly dressed and with tear-dimmed eyes told the story of her desertion, the big lout of a husband the while putting on a look of unconcern. Attorney Dunn, who is conducting the prosecution, was somewhat handicapped on account of the numerous objections interposed by McFadden's lawyers to a wife testifying against her husband, which objections were sustained by the Judge. Mr. Dunn, finally tiring of getting at the true facts of the case by the testimony of the deserted wife said: "Your Honor, this is a very hard case. There is a poor women all the way from Philadelphia, with five small children, and the great hulking fellow is trying to evade his responsibilities. We are trying to prove that he has committed bigamy, and yet I can show nothing. There's a priest here in town and I propose to make him tell what he knows about it. I ask for a continuance.

The defense did not want to allow the continuance, but the Court ordered it.

The big prisoner retired down into the City Prison, followed by the wistful glance of the women he had deserted for another. Finally she drifted out into the sunlight, followed by her progeny.

A glance at the complaint shows that McFadden is accused of taking a second wife to his fireside, by name of Ellen O'Brien, on the 27th of August last, in San Francisco.

One of the letters which the prosecution proposes to exhibit shows the manner in which McFadden has conducted his marital affairs. One sentence is enough. McFadden says that he is willing to stand two years in prison if he can but rid himself for life of his first wife and five children.

Maxwell Sued.

James Burns has brought suit in the Superior Court at Santa Rosa against Geo. H. Maxwell, et al., to foreclose mortgage on what is known as the Burns place and to recover the sum of $9,000 on a promissory note given to secure the mortgage with interest at the rate of 8 per cent per annum, compounded monthly, from January 1, 1890. This ranch was bought by Maxwell at the height of the boom for $19,200, $1200 being paid down. It was to be a part of Verano and was the identical piece of land whereon Maxwell was to erect a $150,000 hotel, construct beautiful drives, rustic bridges and an artificial lake, which somehow or another never materialized. This is only one of many complicated suits that are bound to arise over a fruitless effort to build a town on jaw-bone and other people's money.

An Editor Shot.

Tom Studdert, one of the editors of the sprightly and sparkling Daily Imprint of Petaluma, was shot and it is feared fatally wounded on Thursday evening of last week by Officer Walsh of that city. The shooting appears to have been done without provocation. Young Studdert with a party of friends was out on a lark and got into an altercation with the officer, who appears to have been a little bit too previous in showing his authority and using his gun.

HOME FOR FEEBLE MINDED.

The Corner Stone to be Laid Next Wednesday.

The corner stone of the Home for Feeble Minded Children at Glen Ellen will be laid next Wednesday with imposing ceremonies. The building will be an imposing one, three stories in height, built of brick and stone. Ever since the new site was purchased the institution trustees and the Superintendent, Dr. Osborne, have been busy arranging desired building plans and conferring with the architects, Copeland & Pearce. It will be remembered that this State charity was located at Santa Clara when the last session began. The location there was not considered suitable, nor large enough for its growing needs, and an earnest appeal resulted in securing appropriations aggregating some $250,000 for a new site, water supply and some buildings. After the present site of 1,700 acres near Glen Ellen was bought from Wm. McP. Hill, the farm house on the place was fitted to accommodate some of the pupils from the overcrowded Santa Clara home and work on three of the smaller buildings was begun. These buildings—one for epileptic patients exclusively, one for bakery and laundry, and one for kitchen and store-rooms—are now about completed. The two last named are located directly behind the main building site and they will form adjuncts to that structure when it is completed. It is to set the work on this building fairly under way that the corner-stone ceremonies are to be held. The occasion will also, in its way, be a rejoicing for the present bright outlook for the institution. A large number of guests interested in this line of work will be present. A special train will carry guests from San Francisco. The Grand Lodge of Masons will have charge of the ceremonies. The Governor and his staff will be present, and altogether a gala day is assured.

THE COUNTY ELECTION.

Official Count Completed---The County Republican, but the Democrats Get the Cream of the Offices.

The official count of Sonoma county was completed by the Supervisors last Thursday evening. The county has gone Republican by 143 majority. Pond, however, has a majority of 11 over Markham. The largest majority received by any candidate was that of Juilliard, Democratic nominee for County Clerk, who beat the "Hayseed from Sebastopol, with $7.50 in his inside pocket," 721 votes. Longmore, for Assessor, comes next with a majority of 586. Mulgrew is elected Sheriff by 78 votes. District Attorney Burnett and Judge Dougherty, Republicans, and Treasurer Stofen, Democrat, are re-elected by handsome majorities. Crawford, Republican candidate for Superior Judge, defeats Rutledge by only six votes. The latter will demand a recount. Mrs. Martin is re-elected by 125 majority, against 450 four years ago. It is now claimed by many leading Republicans that Sam Allen was defeated by the Republican friends of Mrs. Martin, many of whom swapped him off to secure her election. This accounts for many of the Democratic votes the lady received.

About dusk Mr. Clayton was attracted to a tree near his residence by the furious barking of his dogs, and discovered the animal crouching in its branches. SONOMA INDEX - TRIBUNE,
SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1890

The Author of Lorna Doone.

R. D. Blackmore lives in great retirement at his pretty villa residence, "Shortwood," close to Teddington station, which latter place, by the way, is an innovation not at all to the taste of the veteran novelist, who built his home before the station existed, and now regrets its proximity. Mr. Blackmore's hobby is his garden. In front there is a trimly kept lawn, surrounded by flourishing beds where rhododendrons, picotees, roses of every hue and old fashioned country flowers vie with each other in abundance. Behind is the fruitful orchard, his great pride, where strawberries, currants, stone fruits, pears and apples are to be found in such plenty that much of it is sold in the fruit markets.

It has always been Mr. Blackmore's custom to work a few hours daily in his garden, and this seems to be his favorite recreation. Mr. Blackmore is now over 70 years of age, and a widower. His two nieces reside with him. In figure he is rather short and thick set, with white hair and whiskers; his face is strongly lined, and the blue eyes and bushy eyebrows are very characteristic. He reminds one somewhat of "Uncle Corny" in his latest work, "Kit Kitty," the hero of which, strangely enough, is a market gardener living at one of the river villages a little higher up than Teddington. —Toronto Mail.

Senators and Flowers.

Senator Teller has one of the prettiest gardens in the northwest. And oh! what stories the roses could tell there! The senator's favorite relaxation all summer is to pay diligent attention to his flower beds.

Constituents, caucus managers and other gentlemen who want to whisper little suggestions in the senator's ear find him every evening armed with a hose sprinkler going around among the flowers, and as they talk they follow him around from bush to bush. They might not get all they want, but the senator has pleasure and relaxation from his garden work, and boasts the prettiest kept lawn and flower beds in his neighborhood.

Senator Evarts has a nice garden, but he does not deserve any special mention for it. It is Mrs. Evarts' particular care and pride to spend her mornings weeding the beds, and when the senator and herself sit down for their after dinner talk they get a great deal of pleasure from viewing the bright blossoms all around the windows.—Washington Letter.

"Money Goes."

The old saying that "money goes" was illustrated recently. A customer tendered a $20 bill. The tradesman had it changed by a neighbor, who, being in a hurry, gave a pocket piece of $10 in gold of the issue of 1861, which he prized highly and did not want to part with. He went to the tradesman as soon as he had given the valued coin, and the latter went out and hunted up the customer to whom he had given it. He had bought some cigars at a neighboring store and had given the gold piece in payment.

Upon going to the cigar store it was found that the proprietor had transferred the coin to a saloon keeper near by, and at that place it was found that the saloon keeper had used it in liquidating his brewery bill. The next day a neighbor went to the brewery and found that the cashier of that institution had just parted with the coveted piece of money to a dissatisfied employe. The individual was at last located and the coin recovered.—Chicago Times.

American Razors in Demand.

The best razors no longer come from Sheffield, and even Englishmen are alive to the fact. The best customers for razors are of English and Scotch descent, as very few Germans or Irishmen act as their own barbers. Formerly nothing without a genuine or fraudulent Sheffield trade mark cut into the blade would be looked at by an ex-subject of Queen Victoria, but now American goods are generally preferred, and some eastern makes are very popular. The greatest run the last two years has been on a razor with a distinctly military name, and although I have sold a great many of the kind I don't know where they are made. But the fact is immaterial, for no purchaser ever finds fault with anything connected with one in any respect save price, and even that is not seriously objected to.—Interview in St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A Brief Wedding.

A certain Georgia editor, who is also a real estate agent, a building and loan association director, an attorney at law, clerk of the town council and pastor of the village church, was recently asked to marry a couple. He was in a great hurry, and the couple surprised him in the middle of a heavy editorial on the tariff. "Time is money," said he, without looking up from his work. "Do you want her?" The man said yes. "And do you want him?" The girl stammered an affirmative. "Man and wife," cried the editor. "One dollar. Bring me a load of wood for it—one-third pine, balance oak."—Atlanta Constitution.

Homing Pigeons in Russia.

The Russians established pigeon stations in various parts of their territory about sixteen years ago. They have eight stations in all. There are five officers, twelve trainers and twenty-four servants connected with the pigeon service. It is their duty to look after the carrier pigeons, and see that they are always in perfect health and condition, and ready for use at any moment. A bushel of grain is allowed to each bird. —New York Evening Sun.

A baggage smasher calls for a baggage lifting machine. He says the baggage smasher wears out almost as fast as the trunks he is thought to take such a fiendish delight in breaking. No mortal man can endure the strain of lifting hundreds of huge, unwieldy trunks ady after day, year after year, and no mortal man ought to be expected to stand it.

MISCELLANEOUS.

"AGE CANNOT WITHER HER," remarked an old gentleman, as he gazed fondly upon the comely little woman by his side; "but frankly," he continued, "at one time I was afraid cosmetics would. The silly little woman, in order to appear youthful, plastered her face with different varieties of whitewash, yclept 'balms,' 'creams,' 'lotions,' etc." "Yes," interrupted the little woman, "I did, until my skin became like parchment and so pimply and coarse." "Well," said the listener, "what do you use now?" "Use," was the reply, "nothing but common sense and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Common sense told me that if my blood was pure, liver active, appetite and digestion good, that the outward woman would take on the hue of health. The 'Discovery' did all those things and actually rejuvenated me." If you would possess a clear, beautiful complexion, free from blotches, pimples, eruptions, yellow spots and roughness, use the "Golden Medical Discovery." It is guaranteed to do all that it is claimed to, or money paid for it will be promptly refunded.

"Seeing is Believing."

Do you want To buy a Lamp?
And the best lamp ever made, like Aladdin's of old, a "wonderful lamp!" A lamp absolutely non-explosive and nearly unbreakable, which gives a clear, soft, brilliant white light of 85 candle power! Purer and brighter than gas light, softer than electric light, more cheerful than either! That lamp is "The Rochester."
And with it there is no smoke, no smell, no broken chimneys, no flickering, no sweating, no climbing up of the flame, no "tantrums" nor annoyance of any kind, and it never needs trimming. Its founts (oil reservoirs) being tough rolled seamless brass, with central draft, it is absolutely unbreakable, and as safe as a tallow candle.
Only five years old, and over two million of these lamps in use. It must be a GOOD lamp to make such a telling success. Indeed it is, for lamps may come and lamps may go, but the "Rochester" shines on forever! We make over 2,000 artistic varieties,—Hanging and Table Lamps, Banquet, Study, Vase and Piano Lamps,—every kind, in Bronze, Porcelain, Brass, Nickel and Black Wrought Iron.
Ask the lamp dealer for it. Look for the trade-mark stamp: "THE ROCHESTER." RAIN! RAIN! RAIN!

Ye Honest Milkman.
If there's one set of men who appreciate a good waterproof coat it is the farmer. He knows that a "Fish Brand Slicker" costs him less per year than any garment made. Did you know it rains or snows one day in three the whole year through? A "Fish Brand Slicker" makes every day a pleasant day to its lucky owner. Go anywhere with it in rain, hail, sleet, snow, or blow, it is wind and water proof. Costs less than rubber, and lasts ten times as long. Rubber is good for show days, but will rip in a week. If you want a coat for hard wear and hard weather, get the "Fish Brand Slicker." Every good thing has its imitators, so has the "Fish Brand Slicker." Look out. Beware of worthless imitations, every garment stamped with "Fish Brand" Trade Mark. Don't accept any inferior coat when you can have the "Fish Brand Slicker" delivered without extra cost. Particulars and illustrated catalogue free.
